

"FIGHTING BOB" EVANS IS DEAD

Rear Admiral Succumbs to Acute Indigestion.

ILL LESS THAN TWO HOURS

Popular Retired Naval Officer Had Suffered for Years From Old Wounds Sustained in the Civil War and From Recurrent Attacks of Rheumatic Gout—President Taft, Admiral Dewey and Secretary Meyer Pay Dead Officer Fitting Tribute.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, known as "Fighting Bob" to an admiring nation, died suddenly at his home in this city. Acute indigestion ended the career of one of the most popular officers in the navy. He was ill less than two hours.

Admiral Evans, born sixty-five years ago in Floyd county, Virginia, rose apparently in better health and spirits than he had enjoyed in some time. For years a sufferer from old wounds sustained in the Civil war and from recurrent attacks of rheumatic gout the aged sea fighter seemed to have shaken off the burden of his advancing days. He displayed high spirits at breakfast and ate a hearty luncheon at noon.

While in his library the admiral was stricken. Instantly his family sent for Dr. S. S. Adams, who on his arrival found the patient in great pain. After treatment Admiral Evans fell into a restless sleep and it was thought that the danger had passed. Shortly, however, he awakened and raising himself with difficulty, announced that he was choking.

"I cannot get my breath," he said and sank back.

Only Son Away on Duty.

At his bedside at the time of his death were his wife, his daughter, Mrs. H. I. Sewell, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank T. Evans, wife of the admiral's only son, a lieutenant commander in the navy, now on duty on the torpedo boat destroyer Menehan at Boston. The only other member of his immediate family who was not present was his daughter, Mrs. Marsh, wife of Captain Charles C. Marsh, commander of the armored cruiser North Carolina.

The news spread with great rapidity and caused a profound shock in official circles.

President Taft was one of the first to express his grief and condolence. He said: "Admiral Evans was one of the most successful squadron commanders we have had in the navy for a long time. He was a rigid disciplinarian, of quick decision and admirably advised in the intricacy of the machinery of cruisers and battleships and skilled in drilling them. I am deeply afflicted to hear of his death."

"I am shocked beyond measure at the sudden death of my lifelong friend, Admiral Evans," said Admiral Dewey. "I cannot say more now."

Secretary Meyer paid this tribute to the officer's memory: "By the sudden death of Admiral Evans the country loses one of its most brilliant and able officers. It was on account of his high reputation that President Roosevelt selected him as commander-in-chief of the fleet that cruised around the world. Although on the retired list he had kept up his active interest in the service and his unexpected death came as a shock to the navy."

SCORES MICHIGAN RAILWAYS

La Follette Says Service in That State Is Worst in Country.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Jan. 4.—Michigan railways in general were most scathingly attacked by Senator Robert M. La Follette in his address before a large crowd here.

"You are getting the worst service in Michigan of any place I know," he declared.

Discussing trusts and corporations he said the control of practically all things industrial in the United States had been usurped by a handful of capitalists that had become a formidable adversary for the masses.

He spoke of the "unscientific" manner in which the McKinley tariff bill was drafted and continued with a statement that the Dingley tariff bill did much to deteriorate conditions of the masses.

ONLY DEATH CAN INTERVENE

President Taft Is in Race for Re-Election to Stay.

Washington, Jan. 4.—"Nothing but death can keep me out of the fight now,"

President Taft is reported to have made this statement to White House callers and to have added that he had no objection to the statement being made public.

It doubtfully was intended to set at rest all reports that Mr. Taft might withdraw from the race for the Republican nomination in favor of Colonel Roosevelt.

Aged Couple Die at Same Time.

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tilburg of Walworth, the two oldest inhabitants of this city, died within an hour of natural causes. Each was nearly ninety years old.

INTEND MAKING FIGHT ON OSBORN

Michigan Progressives Resent Attack on La Follette.

FLOOD STATE WITH ORATORS

Entire Ticket May Be Placed in Field at Republican Primaries and Particular Attention Given to Beating Governor for Renomination—Evans Progressive of National Fame Be Urged to Make Address.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 4.—"I will go to Lansing and speak, if I never make another speech anywhere on earth," said Senator La Follette at Kalamazoo, having had time to digest the savage attack made upon him by Governor Osborn. Then, recollecting his policy of refusing to be interviewed he checked himself.

Sybrant Wessellius of Grand Rapids leader of the movement in the western part of the state, supplied the remainder of the senator's vow. He said that the progressives would put an entire ticket in the field in the Republican primaries and would devote particular attention to beating Governor Osborn out of another nomination.

Secretary Cohen of Detroit spoke angrily regarding the governor and said that, in all likelihood, the Progressive league would make a harder campaign in Michigan than in any other state in view of what had happened.

"Every big progressive of note in the country will be brought here to speak," he said. "Senator La Follette himself will come back and will campaign the state from one end to the other. There will be no let up from now on. Among those who will stump the state for La Follette are Governor McGovern of Wisconsin, Senators Bristow, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Gifford Pinchot and his brother Amos, McMill McCormick, James R. Garfield, William Allen White and F. J. Henry and I might mention a dozen others."

The talk here is that the animus of Governor Osborn's attack was the turning down by the Progressive league of a proposal made by him to swing Michigan to the progressives in consideration of a pledge of the nomination for the vice presidency. The story was widely circulated here and while the progressives will not affirm it, they will not deny it. It was put up to Senator Clapp when he was here and he refused to discuss it. Secretary Cohen was asked to affirm or deny. "I have heard the story," was all he would say, but he smiled meaningly.

CLAPP PRAISES ROOSEVELT

Holds Up Colonel as Example of Progressive Republican.

Sterling, Ill., Jan. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt was exploited as an exponent of progressive Republicanism by United States Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota in an address here in which he pleaded for a return of the Republican party to power in the presidential election next autumn on the grounds that it was best equipped to handle the affairs of the nation.

He praised acts and policies of McKinley and Roosevelt, which, he said, had moved Democratic states over into the Republican column and assailed "Cannonism" and "Aldrichism" as symbols of reactionary hopes.

BRYAN'S NO IS POSITIVE

Can Conceive of No Condition That Would Make Him Candidate.

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 4.—"I cannot conceive any condition that would make it possible for me to consider the question of my becoming the candidate for the presidential nomination of the Democratic party in 1912."

This was the declaration of Colonel William Jennings Bryan on his arrival here from Havana in company with Mrs. Bryan. They left for Washington, Mr. Bryan declined to comment on the action of the progressive Democrats of Ohio in pushing his name to the front as a candidate.

PRIZE FIGHT STOPS RIOT

Officer Meets One of Muttus Scotsmen in Ring and Defeats Him.

London, Jan. 4.—An extraordinary military riot is reported to have occurred at Longmoor camp, where there is a mounted infantry school connected with the Aldershot division. The Scotsmen among the troops became incensed on New Year's eve at the curtailment of their holiday. It is stated that they smashed up the huts in the camp and bombarded the officers' quarters with bricks. Officers and noncommissioned officers turned out to quell the disturbance, but the mutineers formed a square and kept off their superiors. Some of the non-commissioned officers were injured by blows from belts and sticks.

Eventually an officer who is a noted boxer challenged one of the men to fight. The men immediately formed a ring and one of them stood up to the officer but was soon badly defeated. Upon this the men suddenly returned to the wrecked huts.

LEADER WILL NOT ATTEND

Underwood Sends Regrets to Jackson Bay Banquet.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Democratic Leader Oscar W. Underwood's decision not to attend the Jackson bay banquet here next Monday night which became known immediately after the announcement that the managing committee had given to William J. Bryan, at his own request, the last place on the speaking program, threw Democrats in congress into a flurry.

Mr. Underwood decided he would not attend the banquet because of his recent attack of threatened appendicitis. His physician, he said, had ordered him to attend no banquets and particularly to make no speeches, nor do anything requiring unusual exertion.

PRIMARY CAUSE OF HIGH COST OF LIVING

La Follette Blames Overcapitalization of Corporations.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Asserting that overcapitalization of corporations was the primary cause of the high cost of living Senator Robert M. La Follette, in a speech here, marking his first appearance in Illinois on his present campaign tour, declared it was impossible for the government longer not to subject great money interests to reform.

"I know as much about the trust side of this question as I know about the people's side," said Senator La Follette. "I am not afraid of the biggest trust on earth. They cannot count on strap upon the people the burden of this overcapitalization which is the cause of the high cost of living. Overcapitalization has gone on to the extent that all the big business of the country is on stilts. We have got to bring it down."

"But it cannot be done in a moment. It will be worked out scientifically, if I have anything to do with it, and I expect to have a good deal to do with it."

When Senator La Follette said he "expected to have a good deal to do with it" he was interrupted by prolonged cheering. The assertion was taken by his friends as dispelling any doubt as to his intention of remaining in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

QUARRELING OVER REWARD

Detectives Are at Odds Over Dynamite Funds.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—Samuel L. Brown, chief of the detectives attached to the office of the county district attorney, announced that a legal battle is imminent between himself and Detective William J. Burns for the rewards offered for the arrest of the persons responsible for the dynamiting of the Times building. He said the rewards still in effect approximate $80,000.

"I shall start suit in every place in the country where rewards were offered," said Brown. "I shall sue for half in each case."

"Nothing would please me more than to tell in court what I know about the arrest of the McNamara—at least the West end of it—and to tell how it was an accident on the part of Burns."

BRONCHO BANDIT'S NEMESIS

Bucks in Getaway and Bixby Villagers Take Robber.

Tulsa, Okla., Jan. 4.—Walking into the Bank of Bixby, a small town fifteen miles south of here, a man, at the point of a gun, held up Cashier Lipscomb, secured $700, rushed out of the bank and mounted a horse, a Texas broncho, which began bucking. The cashier had given the alarm and the man was pulled from the horse by a crowd that had congregated. He was found to be O. C. Brooks, dishwasher in a Bixby restaurant, and was placed in the Tulsa city jail.

Grain Receipts at Duluth.

Duluth, Jan. 4.—The total amount of domestic grain and flaxseed moved through Duluth in the year 1911 was 50,425,000 bushels. During the year 1910 the total was 53,725,000. The largest amount in any one of the last twenty-seven years was in 1907, when total receipts were 88,409,000 bushels.

WOOL DUTIES WILL BE CUT.

Tariff Board Report Makes Reduction Certain.

SIZE OF CUT ONLY QUESTION.

Even Standpats Introducing Reduction Bills—Will Insurgents Work With Democrats?—Senator Knute Nelson Forgot Something—Bailey Smoot and Bristow Neighbors.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Senator Aldrich said that the woolen schedule was the keystone of the protection arch, and it begins to look as if that arch was in danger. The legislators here are going after the keystone. There is going to be a reduction of the tariff on wool. It may be a Republican reduction or a Democratic reduction, but some one is going to reduce that duty.

Moreover, after the report of the tariff board it does not seem possible to get around making the reduction, even if it does not satisfy anybody. Just now everybody is torn up over the kind of a reduction that should be made. The Republicans cannot fix the method in the house for they are in the minority. If the insurgents in the senate act with the Democrats again there may be sent to the president a bill similar to that of last session.

Insurgents Are Wary.
But something happened just before the end of the extra session which has made the insurgents wary. They were working along with the Democrats on the various tariff bills all right, until one day the Democrats made a deal with the Republican regulars. Enough of the latter refrained from voting to give the Democrats power to put through their own bills instead of losing their own bills and then voting for the insurgent measures.

There is no certainty that an alliance can be formed between Democrats and insurgents such as operated to pass several tariff bills last session. Of course it was then well known that the president would veto any bills passed, but a wool bill this session is something different.

The Thrifty Norseman.
In the change of committee chairmanships at the beginning of this session of congress Senator Knute Nelson gave up the head of the public lands committee for that of the commerce committee, Senator Smoot taking the vacancy. The latter was talking to a group of senators afterward, one of whom was the Minnesota statesman.

"I tell you," said Senator Smoot, "the Scandinavians are a mighty thrifty people. Why, when I went to Nelson's old room to get the committee belonging lists the only thing I could find was a small bottle of whisky the size of my little finger, and half of that was gone."

Senator Nelson laughed with the rest. The next day the door of Senator Smoot's office was slowly opened, and Nelson put his head in a little way.

"Come in, senator," said Smoot. "Thanks, I can't stop," said Senator Knute. "I just called to get that half bottle of whisky."

First Printer in the Yukon.
John E. Lathrop, a well known Washington correspondent, is an old timer in the Klondike region.

"I was up in that country in 1897, just when people were beginning to rush for the new gold fields," he said recently. "One level headed man, who has since made a fortune in business there, had sent for an outfit for a newspaper, though he didn't know a thing about a printshop. I heard that he was looking for a printer, and, as I knew the cases, I unpacked his stuff for him and set the first line of type ever printed in the Yukon valley."

A Friendly Triangle.

"Politics makes strange bedfellows." Yet in spite of the fact that Senator Bailey, the Democratic jurist; Senator Smoot, the standpat protegee of former Senator Aldrich, and Senator Bristow, the insurgent from "bleeding Kansas," are within a stone's throw of each other, with plenty of stones in the Rock Creek gorge near by to throw if they wanted to, they live in peace and harmony and talk to each other in their shirt sleeves over the back yard fence.

"It's lucky, however," said Senator Bristow in speaking of the fact, "that people in this country don't throw stones in the arid of their convictions the way they do in England. One of us would be sure to be hit, and the ammunition is very close by."

What Canadians Missed.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier certainly deprived several Canadians of a rich treat. Had he named a number of boundary commissioners to meet with the three men who were appointed last March he would have given them an opportunity to enjoy the rich humor, the many stories of western life and the genial companionship of the late Thomas H. Carter.

Few men in public life could match Carter as a teller of good stories or equal him in humorous recollections and anecdotes. Hundreds of good stories are now floating about the country or appearing from time to time in the papers and magazines which were first told by the man from Montana. Two of the best speeches ever made at Gridiron club dinners were by Carter when in the senate.

Organs.
Organs were known before the time of Christ and were used in religious services early in the Christian era.

LOUIS W. HILL.

Great Northern President Attends Duluth Banquet.

URGES STATE EXPANSION

Louis W. Hill Guest at Duluth Banquet.

Duluth, Jan. 4.—State development was the keynote of L. W. Hill's address at the Commercial club's banquet at the Spaulding hotel, at which he was guest of honor. The president of the Great Northern railroad laid out alluring prospects of great expansion of the agricultural resources and declared that Minnesota was just awakening to the wonderful possibilities which can be hers for the effort. Mr. Hill strongly urged co-operation of the people to the end that the development of Northern Minnesota may progress more rapidly.

ORGANIZER CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Labor Leader Placed Under Arrest at Muscatine, Ia.

Muscatine, Ia., Jan. 4.—The arrest of Emmett Flood of Chicago, national organizer for the American Federation of Labor and the representative of President Gompers, on the charge of conspiracy to destroy property with acid bombs, was the principal development in the local grand jury situation which grew out of the button workers' strike.

Flood was placed under arrest immediately after his arrival from Chicago on four warrants, three of which charge him with malicious destruction of property. C. G. Wilson, the Socialist member of the city council and fiscal agent for the local Button Workers' union, which is on strike, was charged in two new indictments with conspiracy and malicious destruction of property. In the former he was jointly indicted with Flood.

Both men were released on bond. Flood at $2,000 and Wilson at $3,000. Local union men procured sureties.

The offenses for which Flood and Wilson are held are alleged to have been committed last spring, early in the present button workers' strike. It specifically is charged in the joint indictment that the two men conspired with other labor men to destroy button factory property and to create a reign of terror in Muscatine. The preliminary hearing has been set for Friday.

BURNS RAPS FORMER MAYOR

Says Bookwaulter Was Negligent in Not Prosecuting McNamara.

Indianapolis, Jan. 4.—Detective William J. Burns, before leaving for Philadelphia, openly charged former Mayor Charles A. Bookwaulter of this city with negligence in not having prosecuted John J. McNamara two years ago on evidence in his possession indicating that officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers had caused dynamite explosions here.

Burns declared that the former mayor or dropped the investigation and not long afterward was invited to become a member of a printing firm doing much work for national labor unions and in which already Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation, is reported to him to have been interested.

Taft Pardons Negro Convicts.

Washington, Jan. 4.—President Taft has commuted to expire at once the life sentence of Arthur Adams and Robert Sawyer, two negro British subjects convicted at Wilmington, N. C., in 1906, of murder on the high seas. In a confession before his execution Henry Scott, another negro convicted of and hanged for the same crime, completely exonerated Adams and Sawyer.

CLEAN LITTLE FROM WITNESS

ENGLAND MAY ALSO ABROGATE TREATY

Likely to Follow Example of United States Over Passports.

London, Jan. 4.—Great Britain may follow the example set by the United States in calling Russia to account for refusing to recognize the passports of Jewish citizens visiting in the czar's empire.

The Anglo-Jewish association, whose membership includes some of the most influential financiers in England, is urging the government to abrogate the treaty of 1859, which gives British subjects the right to travel or reside in Russia, but provides that they may be expelled "for bad conduct" or for "other causes for which their residence in the empire cannot be suffered."

Recently an English Jew, an officer in the British army, was ordered to China. He bought a ticket to the Far East over the Transsiberian railroad, but a passport was denied him. The foreign secretary lodged a protest at St. Petersburg and the officer was allowed a passport.

English business men of the Jewish faith are subjected to every kind of annoyance and even imprisonment whenever they set foot on Russian territory.

STEPHENSON FREED OF BLAME

Report Exonerates Senator From Corruption Charges.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The Stephenson investigating committee of the senate probably will meet Saturday to consider the report prepared by Chairman Heyburn of Idaho exonerating Senator Stephenson from all charges of corruption. The report finds that no member of the Wisconsin legislature was shown to have been influenced in Mr. Stephenson's behalf by the use of money. It comments upon the expenditure of $107,000 in the campaign as due to the existence of a primary election law in Wisconsin, but that law is not condemned in terms in Mr. Heyburn's report.

MONEY TRUST RESOLUTION

Representative Lindbergh Asks for Sweeping Inquiry.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The "money trust" resolution presented in the house by Representative Charles A. Lindbergh of Minnesota is more sweeping in its terms than the one he previously introduced. The revised resolution specifically calls for an inquiry into the Rockefeller and other banks in New York and proposes to bring within the scope of the inquiry the Harvester company and the shipping combine, as well as the so called "money trust." It calls for a probe of the affairs of life insurance and railroad companies and seeks information as to the identity of those who "control credits and the money supply."

Former Armour Manager Gives Evasive Answers.

APPEARS UNWILLING TO TELL

William D. Miles Had Been Heralded as One of the Most Important Witnesses for the Government in Packers' Trial and Counsel Made No Effort to Conceal Their Disappointment at the Way He Answered Certain Questions.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—William D. Miles, general manager for the Armour Packing company at Kansas City from 1894 to 1902, testified in the trial of the ten Chicago packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law, that the old packers' pools were organized to prevent the glutting of the market with fresh meats and that there always was active competition between the members in all parts of the country.

He followed Henry Veeder on the stand and was the third witness called by the government.

Despite the fact that Miles had on two occasions given testimony against the packers before federal grand juries he proved an unwilling witness and little was gleaned from his direct examination of great value to the government in strengthening its case. Miles had been heralded as one of the most important witnesses for the prosecution and counsel for the government made no effort to conceal their disappointment at his evasive answers to certain questions.

The witness gave an elaborate description of the uniform test cost system used by the packers and explained the method of figuring margin profits and other features of the intricate system of accounting.

Two Cost Systems Used.

He brought out for the first time that there was a "black test cost" and a "red test cost" used in the bookkeeping of the Armour Packing company, the former being used as the flat price of the animal and that the latter included freight and other items of expense. The government contends that the "red test cost" was secretly used by the combination in the fixing of the price of meat.

Miles told of attending the meetings of the packers' pool in the Counselman building, Chicago, but the efforts of counsel for the government to induce him to admit that the members fixed the price of fresh meat at these sessions were unsuccessful. He said that reports of the shipments expressed in pounds, together with the average price and margin of profit earned for the previous week's business, were received and the shipments for the current week were regulated at the meeting of the pool.

He identified several letters which he received from the pool office June 19, 1898, in regard to shipments and margin price to be charged for fresh meat and which had previously been introduced in evidence by the government.

OUTLINE FIGHT ON TARIFF

Many Attend National Democratic Club Dinner.

New York, Jan. 4.—The National Democratic club launched a movement to make tariff reform the paramount issue of the coming presidential campaign at a largely attended dinner in its new clubhouse on Fifth avenue. Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey was the principal speaker. Representative William C. Redfield of Brooklyn and Francis Burton Harrison of New York were other speakers.

Governor Wilson insisted that the time had come for the country to set itself free from the burden of the protective tariff.

DECLARES FOR A REPUBLIC

Imperial Soldiers Desert Cause of Chinese Government.

Peking, Jan. 4.—The imperial government troops stationed at Chinwangtao, the treaty port on the Gulf of Liaotung, who number about 4,000, have notified the foreign legations in Peking that they desire the formation of a republic. They are acting in co-operation with the imperial government troops stationed at Lanchow, who were reported to have declared in favor of a republic and to have elected Wang Wei Tze their leader, at the same time declaring their intention of marching on Peking.

GOMPERS SCORES EMPLOYERS

Violated Rights of Labor in Button Workers' Strike, He Says.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The employers of labor in the button workers' strike in Muscatine have been accused of violating the rights of labor, declared Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in commenting on the arrest of National Organizer Flood at Muscatine.

"Mr. Flood has been down there practically since the strike started," he added, "defending the poor men, women and children who need his help in their fight against their employers. The latter have shown no regard whatever for decency or the rights of their employees in this fight."

A Hero in a Lighthouse

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck, himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so-called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50c at all druggists.

HEARS OF BLOOD, FAINTS.

Juror Overcome Whenever Word Is Spoken In His Presence.

Setting forth that the word "blood" or anything pertaining to it causes him to faint and so upsets him that he is unable to sleep or transact business. Edward F. Kellogg, a contractor, asked Judge Swann in the New York court of general sessions to excuse him as a juror and to strike his name from the panel.

Judge Swann said Kellogg's excuse was a most extraordinary one, but inasmuch as Kellogg put his application in an affidavit and he was supported by his attorney in another affidavit he would do as desired and see that the contractor was called in no more criminal cases.

Kellogg says he has a constitutional aversion to any reference to the word or the shedding of human blood. While Judge Swann was charging a jury he used the word. Kellogg promptly fainted.

NO VARIATION IN NEW YEAR PLANS

President's Reception and Diplomatic Breakfast.

EVERYBODY AT WHITE HOUSE

Calling on Members of the Cabinet
Senators Who Were Representatives and Governors—Mann's Garden Made Him Eight Hour Advocate—How Cummins Remembers Faces.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 3.—[Special.]—The first of every year is pretty much the same in Washington. There are certain fixed functions, and they must come off as sure as the sun rises and some important personage does not drop dead. There is the reception at the White House attended by every government official in the federal service, including the army, navy, marine corps and other officers in uniform and such senators and representatives as feel disposed to pay their respects to the president.

Then there is a breakfast by the secretary of state to the diplomatic corps. It's really a luncheon, but we in Washington call it a breakfast. In the late afternoon calls are made at all the cabinet houses, the speaker's home and perhaps upon a few other officials. There are a few who do not call. There are a few who are so certain of their own importance that they do not call. There are a few who are so certain of their own importance that they do not call.

Promoted From the House.

Thirty-one senators, or a fraction more than one-third of the senate, formerly served in the house. They are: Bankhead, Alabama; Brandegee, Connecticut; Cullom and Lorimer, Illinois; Shively, Indiana; Curtis, Kansas; Paynter, Kentucky; Rayner, Maryland; Lodge, Massachusetts; Smith and Townsend, Michigan; Nelson, Minnesota; Williams, Mississippi; Stone, Missouri; Dixon, Montana; Hitchcock, Nebraska; Newlands, Nevada; Gallinger, New Hampshire; Gronna, North Dakota; Burton, Ohio; Gamble, South Dakota; Simmons, North Carolina; Bailey, Texas; Sutherland, Utah; Swanson, Virginia; Jones and Poindexter, Washington; La Follette and Stephenson, Wisconsin; Clark, Wyoming; Taylor, Tennessee. When New Mexico sends Mark and Arizona sends Mark Smith to the senate there will be two additional members of this list.

Twenty-one Governors.

There are twenty-one senators who were former governors of their states. They are: Clarke and Davis, Arkansas; Perkins, California; Smith, Georgia; Cullom, Illinois; Cummins, Iowa; Bradley, Kentucky; Foster, Louisiana; Crane, Massachusetts; Nelson, Minnesota; Stone, Missouri; Wetmore, Rhode Island; Tillman, South Carolina; Crawford, South Dakota; Taylor, Tennessee; Culbertson, Texas; Dillingham and Page, Vermont; Swanson, Virginia; La Follette, Wisconsin; Warren, Wyoming. It will be noticed that Cullom, Nelson, Stone, Taylor, Swanson and La Follette are in both lists.

What Convinced Mann.

During the discussion of the eight hour law in the house Minority Leader Mann explained how he had changed his mind. "There was a time," he said, "when I did not think eight hours was long enough for men to work, but I have changed my mind. I have a garden at home that I use for exercise, and the use of a spade or a hoe there for an hour or two convinced me of the justice of the eight hour law."

Senate Office Building.

Luxuries are said to exist in the senate office building, and I rather think they have things pretty nice over there. They have two finely appointed kitchens, and one of them was recently put in use. Senator Burton having lunch in the kitchen and entertaining the Ohio delegation when it declared for President Taft.

"They point to the office building as an extravagance," remarked Senator McCumber of North Dakota. "Why, that building will stand for a hundred years and be useful all the time. Four like it could be built for the cost of one battleship not lasting ten years."

Places For College Men.

The department of agriculture employs more college men than any other in the government. The forestry bureau in this department and the bureau of standards in the commerce department have the largest proportion of college men. The library of congress also has a large number of college men, about 90 per cent, it is said, of the employees.

Cummins Know Him.
Senator Cummins of Iowa makes a great effort to remember the names and faces of every one he has met. Not long ago he entered the clerk's office of the supreme court and greeted the clerk and assistants by name. "Now, that's a remarkable thing," remarked the clerk, James McKinney. "Senator Cummins never saw me but once that I know of, and that was two years ago. Yet he called me by name when he saw me." "Senator Cummins knows me, too," said the colored man at the door, who overheard the clerk's remark. "He done had me tell him who you all was and point you all out at the do' before he come in."

THE HUMAN BRAIN.

Scientists Claim It Is Distributed All Over the Body.

Once it was believed that the gray matter of the brain was confined within the skull. Now physicians and other students of physiology tell us that this same "gray" matter is found in other parts of the body—for instance, in the tips of the fingers of the blind, where the thinking has been consciously much exercised. One physician tells us there is little brain in the throat, and it often seems to be an independent thinking organ. An operator on the throat must become a friend and confidant of that little brain or his operation will not be successful. The little brain has a memory, and if the operator's hand has slipped and missed that throat the brain in the head may consent to the operation and desire it, but that little throat brain will resist even if it be months after the mistake, and if the operator persists the patient may be thrown into convulsions, such is the memory of that little brain. And what has been discovered in the throat and in the finger tips will yet be discovered throughout the whole body, because we will consciously think in every part. At present much of the thinking is involuntary, not with the co-operation of the eye or central consciousness, but self knowledge brings you where you co-operate with yourself, and there are harmony and unity in all the activities of the body because of confidence throughout in the master of it.

The cells of your body can be seen as little selves or people, forming a government over which you exercise good rule by becoming acquainted with your people, educating public sentiment in noble thinking, putting away internal strife, hatred and other forms of inharmonious. Certain persons suffer because they have hatred and dissipated parts and functions of their bodies. Hatred withers, paralyzes and congests. No one can do his best under disapproval—seek out a way to think kindly, generously, truly of yourself.—Detroit Free Press.

MRS. JACKSON SIGNS.

Widow of Famous Confederate General Favors Lost Cause Pensions.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, widow of the famous Confederate chieftain, affixed her signature to a petition asking that an amendment be adopted to the Sherwood "dollar a day" pension bill providing for pensions for Confederate veterans. The petition was drawn by members of Mecklenburg Camp of Veterans and the Daughters of the Confederacy and is being signed by scores of prominent citizens. It will be sent to Congressman E. Y. Webb of the Ninth North Carolina district, who will probably place it in the hands of the North Carolina senators. The petition recites that the Confederates "fought for a principle which they believed to be right and since the war have patiently and cheerfully contributed to pension the federal soldiers, and they respectfully submit that as they help to pay this general pension they should participate in its benefits."

A Matter of History.

"Yes, Johnny's doing nicely at school," Mrs. Lapsing said, "and he remembers everything he learns, especially in history. He told me the story the other day about Alexander cutting the accordeon knot."—Chicago Tribune.

WADENA MAN HAS ACCEPTED POSITION

H. J. Maxfield, Former President of Northern Minnesota Development Association

IS IMMIGRATION COMMISSIONER

Position Came to Him Without Solicitation—Resigns Attorneyship of Wadena County

H. J. Maxfield, well known in this city, has accepted the position of commissioner of immigration tendered him by the State Board of Immigration, and will at once enter the activities of the office. Mr. Maxfield held the position of president of the Northern Minnesota Development association for two years and presided over its destinies at the time the association met in Brainerd, and his friends and acquaintances in this city will extend to him their hearty congratulations. The gentleman is particularly equipped to take up the work and will enter upon his duties with a full knowledge of the possibilities and needs of the state of Minnesota, and particularly so the undeveloped portion of it. He resigned the position of county attorney of Wadena county and J. H. Mark was selected by the commissioners as his successor.

In connection with the above the following review of the work of the state board, furnished The Dispatch by the chief clerk, will be interesting inasmuch as it shows the scope of territory covered and the vast amount of work done by this branch of the state government.

The work accomplished by this department during the year of 1911 has been done principally by correspondence and public exhibitions of the states' products in various places. During the year of 1911 over 25,000 letters making inquiries about Minnesota have been received at this office. These letters came principally from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Ohio and Pennsylvania, although letters have been received from every state in the union and Canada. To every inquiry a personal letter has been directed and followed with literature, maps, etc., descriptive of the state. In response to this many have called in person at this office to gather more minute information of the state before visiting the various sections, and it is a conservative estimate that over 2,500 have called personally, at this office, during the year of 1911.

Small display ads have been carried in over sixty magazines and daily papers in foreign states during the year which accounts for the active correspondence.

An advertising car carrying an exhibit of the state's agricultural and manufactured products was mantled and kept on the road by this department during the months of January, February and March, '11. This car was in charge of two men employed by the Immigration Department and traveled several thousand miles, stopping one day at each town, visiting 77 cities and villages in Illinois, and 21 in Iowa. Daily reports from the men in charge of the car showed that the attendance was approximately 1,100 persons per day. A similar car was prepared and sent out with the recent "Governor's Special" which was visited by thousands of people in the Eastern cities. An exhibit was maintained at the Minnesota state fair in September; and also at the Northwestern Land Products show, held in St. Paul, December 12th to 23d. At the Northwestern Land Products show, the Minnesota exhibit won the first prize trophy cup, for the most comprehensive display.

An increased activity in Minnesota real estate has prevailed the past year, which can be found by an examination of the records of the State Auditor's office.

During the calendar year of 1911, 156,171 acres of state school lands were sold against 70,242 in 1910, showing a gain of 85,929 over the previous year. Of these lands sold in 1911, 33,830 acres were sold to 185 different parties coming from other states which averaged 183 acres to each party. The average price of which these lands were sold in 1911 was about $6.77 against $6.20 in 1910, a gain of 57 cents per acre, and the above does not include cash paid for timber.

Records on file at the three U. S. land offices, located in this state show what has been accomplished in securing homesteaders: At the Crookston land office in 1911, 1,203 persons filed on homesteads against 707 in 1910, a gain of 496 over the previous year. At the Cass Lake land office 816 filed in 1911, against 750 in 1910, a gain of 66. And at the Duluth land office 654 filed in 1911, against 597 in 1910, a gain of 57; or a total gain in all offices of 619 over the previous year.

An effort has been made to secure a record of the number of cars of immigrant movables which have come into Minnesota during the year of 1911, and from what reports we are able to gather a very conservative estimate places the figures at over 2,500 cars, or a gain of 25 per cent over last year.

In closing we might add that the immigration department has received able and efficient support from many other state departments, as well as from various railroad companies, and we face the New Year with bright prospects for a better and greater year's work.

A Girl's Wild Midnight Ride

To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives. Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. R. Patterson, Wellington, Tex., "after four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained 87 pounds." QUICK RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION

Mining Companies Meet at Deerwood
—John Oberg Banquet—Other
Deerwood News

Deerwood, Minn., January 4.—Completed in record time and right on the time agreed upon, freight trains are now running on the Cuyuna Northern railway and delivering coal, timber, cement, steel and other supplies to the Adams mine on section thirty south of Deerwood. When the incorporation of the railway was first announced many believed it to be but a paper road. It was said the road would be completed in December and some people doubted that. The date came round and the road was finished. Good progress is being made at the mine and a village of houses cluster about the shaft. When it was said the Barrows mine was to be the first shipper of the south range some of Deerwood's enthusiastic citizens said: "You wait and see. Maybe the Adams will beat the Barrows mine on shipping."

The Cuyuna Iron Company, of which Dr. R. J. Sewall, of Crosby; Dr. Murphy and Archie McKay of Superior; C. W. Potts and E. A. Lamb, of Deerwood, and others are stockholders, had a meeting on Saturday and transacted much important business.

The Dakota Iron Mining Company in which many Dakota and Duluth people are interested, will hold a meeting January 15 at the office of Alford & Hunt, Duluth. E. A. Lamb is the manager of this company.

Louis Danielson, of Brainerd, Longyear's drill foreman, was suddenly taken sick with bronchitis while on his regular trip to Deerwood and is now confined to his room in the Adams hotel.

Frank Johnson, of Ironton, was in Deerwood on business Wednesday.

E. A. Lamb is suffering with an attack of bronchitis.

J. A. Stetson's boy, Harold, was operated on at St. Mary's hospital recently. He was suffering with an abscess. The little patient is gradually recovering.

One of the happiest family reunions occurred during the Christmas holidays at the old home of Mr. and Mrs. Bickford, north of Staples. Thirty-four were seated at the festive board and included Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Bickford and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bickford and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bickford and family, of Crosby; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCabe and family, of Crosby; J. P. Welch, of Alberta, Canada. Fifteen grandchildren were present.

John Oberg gave a stag party on New Year's eve and his wife excelled herself in cooking the supper of turkey and moose. At the feast, which really partook of the nature of a banquet, Climax Rogers officiated as the official turkey carver and toastmaster. Climax, in calling on the guests for remarks, spoke on the subject of "How to Trail the Festive Jack Rabbit to His Lair." His recital plainly showed that to bowl over a score of 50 rabbits on a cold winter morning was just as hard work as shooting a moose. Dr. F. W. S. Raiter spoke on "How to Cure an Acute Case of Smoking Christmas Cigars." Julius O. Hage dilated on "The 15 Meetings Which the Council Held in November." Wilson Bradley favored the audience with a report on "What's Doing in Section 19-46-29." John Oberg took up his pet hobby, "How

DEATHBED SCENES.

And the Question of Prolonging Life to Its Utmost Limit.

Even the lengthening of a man's life by a day may make death easier by giving him the opportunity of soothing a guilty conscience, of signing a will, of redressing an injustice, of healing a breach of friendship the memory of which might blight another life, of saying farewell to a son or daughter who had come in haste from a great distance. Any one who has seen deathbeds knows how anxieties of this sort may darken the last hours and how their removal may reconcile the sufferer to death. It seems to us that this talk of the right to die and the wrong doing of doctors in seeking to prolong a life that is hanging by a thread springs from the unwholesome sentimentalism and the inevitable accompaniment of selfishness which are among the unhappy notes of the present time.

To the older writers the death agony was the final struggle of the soul leaving the body, and by a confusion of thought due to the acquired meaning of the word it has come to be generally believed that the parting of the spiritual from the material part of man is painful. Those whose lot it has been to stand at many deathbeds know that this is not the case. Sir William Osler says that he has careful records of about 600 deathbeds, studied particularly with reference to the modes of dying and the sensations of the dying. Of these ninety suffered bodily pain or distress of one sort or another, eleven showed mental apprehension, two positive terror, one expressed spiritual exaltation, one bitter remorse. The great majority gave no sign one way or the other.—British Medical Journal.

MORBID BLUSHING.

A Terrible Affliction That May Be Helped by Convex Glasses.

The essential cause of morbid blushing is a morbid temperament, says Dr. H. Campbell, M. R. C. P., in the Practitioner. A normal person may blush, but he is not greatly disturbed by it. He may be disconcerted for the time; but, the storm over, he soon forgets all about it. The morbid blusher, on the other hand, suffers mental torture. The blush throws him into a state of panic such as in the normal person can only be excited by some desperate experience. The anguish is so great that he lives in constant dread of being exposed to the conditions which excite it. This dread colors his entire life. He wakes up with it; he falls asleep with it. It haunts his dreams.

Morbid blushing is, in truth, a terrible affliction. In its severe forms, Dr. Campbell says, it always calls up thoughts of suicide and not infrequently actually prompts it.

The female sex is more apt to blush than the male sex, although more men than women seek medical help for morbid blushing. Those who suffer from the complaint may gain some confidence by using strong convex glasses. The artificial myopia thus induced by blurring the surroundings tends to diminish self consciousness.

In other words, distort the faces of people by means of spectacles and it will not matter to you how they look at you, for you will not notice them.

TAFT RECEIVES THREE PROTESTS

Opposition to Placing Judge Hook on Supreme Bench.

OHIO MAY FALL IN LINE

Minnesota Railway Commission, Oklahoma Corporation Commission and Governor Aldrich of Nebraska oppose Appointment of Federal Circuit Judge Hook to Succeed Late Justice Harlan—injunctions in Rate Cases Form Basis of Grievance.

Washington, Jan. 1.—President Taft has received protests from the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission, the Oklahoma corporation commission and from Governor Aldrich of Nebraska protesting against the appointment of United States Circuit Judge Hook as an associate justice of the supreme court to succeed the late John M. Harlan.

These protests are based upon the fact that Judge Hook enjoined the authorities of Oklahoma from enforcing an order for a 2-cent rate law.

The Minnesota protest involves the same question, but relates particularly to the fact that Judge Hook concurred in the decision written by Judge Sanborn of the circuit court of appeals for the Eighth circuit, enjoining the Minnesota authorities from putting into force a 2-cent rate law.

Governor Aldrich, who has added his protest on behalf of Nebraska, finds fault with Judge Hook for the general attitude he has taken on the bench on this question.

It is understood that the Ohio authorities may join in the protest. This would not be surprising, because Governor Harmon, at the conference of governors at Spring Lake, N. J., several months ago, took the initiative that led the states to co-operate in bringing the question before the supreme court of the United States as to the right of the federal courts to enjoin intrastate rates for carriers engaged in interstate commerce.

President Taft is not likely to be influenced by these protests. He referred them in the usual course to the department of justice. He received similar protests from the state of New York at the time the name of Governor Hughes was under consideration for the supreme court. Certain persons in New York objected to Governor Hughes' veto of the 2-cent rate bill, but the president appointed him in spite of the protests.

The president has intimated to some of his callers that he will not determine the judgeship matter until after Attorney General Wickersham has returned from Panama. Mr. Wickersham is due Jan. 11. The appointment, therefore, probably will not be made before the middle of January.

A Philosopher.

"My! You wanted fried potatoes, didn't you?" said the careless waitress as the customer in the restaurant finished his meal and rose to leave.

"That's all right," answered the patient man. "I've wanted so many things all my life that I didn't get 'em used to it."—Newark News.

Social Parasite.

"You needn't brag about your social connections if you do belong to an aristocratic family. Don't you work for a living?"

"I work! How do I work?"

"Everybody you can."—Baltimore American.

An Exception.

"They say that lightning never strikes twice in the same place."

"Doesn't it? I know a woman who's been married for her money three times."—Detroit Free Press.

CHILDREN INJURED.

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associated bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store.
